aruch Cash Gift of $1,100,000 Vill Help War Wounded Advance Physical Therapy

ernard M. Baruch gave away 00,000 in cash of his personal for a ten-year program he study and teaching of physical therapy — a field in which herited a life-long interest his father, the late Dr. Simon Baruch.

seventy-three year old financier, who is special adviser to F. Byrnes, director of the of War Mobilization, said he ll put most of his fortune into project if it is successful, and ained that he was moved to the money at this time be of the increasing importance physical therapy in the care of wounded.

t his office at 597 Madison Avenue, Mr. Baruch said the funds be distributed as follows:

olumbia University College of icians and Surgeons — $400,- ew York University College of icine — $250,000.

edical College of Virginia — elected medical schools not yet osen — $100,000.

r fellowships and residencies ,000.

e Baruch plan, which is based recommendations made by a mittee of scientists and medical men headed by Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, chancellor of Stanford University, has the primary of multiplying by at least five the present 1,700 physical specialists.

Baruchs' grant will be ad by a board of trus [illegible]

[illegible] Mary Boyle, an associate Baruch for the last thirty- years. Headquarters of the will be at 597 Madison Ave-

Checks to Columbia, N.Y.U. and the University of Virginia were mailed. The rest of the $1,100,000 has been deposited in a bank awaiting selection of its recipients.

According to Dr. Krusen, who was present at the interview, the Baruch plan includes the whole field of physical therapy, which means the employment of the physical and other effective properties of light, heat, cold, water, electricity, massage, manipulation, exercise and mechanical devices in the diagnosis and treatment of disease. It is a branch of medicine that dates back to the first time a man bumped his knee and rubbed it to alleviate soreness. But it has been seriously investigated by medical men only in the last thirty years.

The New York University grant will establish a center for teaching and special research in preventive and manipulative mechanics of physical medicine.

The Medical College of Virginia, of which Dr. Simon Baruch was a graduate in 1862, will establish a center for teaching and research, with particular reference to hydrology, climatology and spa therapy.

The $100,000 divided among selected medical schools is to be used for the development of an immediate program for the physical rehabilitation of war casualties and those persons injured in war industries. Occupational therapy will be stressed by these schools.

The fellowships or residencies will be for the benefit of qualified [illegible] created. They will be given through the appointment by the administrative board of a committee on war and post-war physical

NEW ENGLAND JEWS GIVE PALESTINE TRACT AS REFUGE

1,300 SHELTER 600 FAMILIES

A tract of 5,000 dunams, about 1,250 acres, has been acquired in Palestine through the Jewish National Fund of New England for the settlement of 600 Jewish families now facing danger in Hungary and Rumania.

The colony, bearing the name of "Commonwealth of Massachusetts" was dedicated at a dinner in the presence of 1,300 persons who have contributed toward it.

Speakers appealed for the immediate cancellation of the British White Paper and urged that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill accelerate the entrance into Palestine of as many refugees as could be rescued from Hungary and Rumania.

How Nazis Broke Up Greek Jews Comes Out Again

The Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Aid Society in New York released a story of the persecution, horrors and "deportation" to extermination camps in Poland of the largest Jewish community in Greece, based on information received from underground sources in Greece and [illegible] to the "inhuman persecution by the Nazi occupation in Greece" came in April, 1943, when nearly the entire population of 45,000 Jews from Salonika was herded "like cattle, into freight cars which comprised seventeen trains, and were carried off to Poland."

The report pointed out that "not all Jews in Salonika shared the same fate; the Nazis, for reasons of their own, made temporary concessions to some and granted exemptions from deportation to Poland to others."

"However," the report continued, "when the campaign was over, Salonika, whose Jewish community boasted a distinguished record dating back many centuries, became Judenrein. The liquidation of Salonika Jewry was apparently one of the major tasks assigned by Hitler to the German command in Greece. The persecution started on April 9, 1941, a few days after the German Army occupied Macedonia."

400 Priests And Ministers Honor Wise

Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York's Free Synagogue was greeted by leaders of Chicago's Christian clergy as American Jewry's foremost spokesman and the country's "great humanitarian who is courageous enough to be an inspiration to the thought and ideals of all mankind."

Four hundred priests and ministers of more than a score of Christian communions joined in the tribute at a luncheon given in honor of Dr. Wise's seventieth birthday and on his half century in the rabbinate.

Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, who was at Cardinal O'Connell's funeral in Boston, was represented by the Rev. William J. [illegible] of St. Andrew's Church, who praised the rabbi's humanitarianism.

The Rev. Dr. Harold [illegible], minister of Central Church and vice president of the Church Federation of Greater Chicago, praised Dr. Wise for his "intellectual integrity, moral courage and spiritual power."

Bishop Wallace E. Conkling of the Episcopal Diocese pointed to the assemblage as a proof that "our democracy does stand the test."

Rabbi Wise's response was a tribute to the Christian churches and clergy of Nazi-occupied lands as the only groups which have stood against Nazi ideology and oppression.

"Many Christians have died that Jews might live," he said.

N.Y. Schools To Make Pupils Immune To Hatred

A racial-tolerance campaign designed to make New York's children, parents, teachers and administrators "immune and impregnable" to the specter of hatred has been started throughout the city's public school system by the Board of Superintendents.

Based on a "Charter for Intercultural Education for New York City's Schools" by Superintendent of Schools John E. Wade, and directed by Dr. Jacob Greenberg, associate superintendent, the campaign reaches the children through a revision of the curriculum, and the teachers through a series of circulars and directives sent by Dr. Wade instructing them to make the principles of racial tolerance a basic principle of the entire educational program.

The "focal point" of Dr. Wade's "charter" deals with the "worth of people." Children will be taught that they owe respect for one another as individuals and for the groups to which they belong; understanding of the total cultural pattern of America, its diversities and common ideals, and cooperative living together and working together of all children of different faiths, racial strains and nationality backgrounds.

The second point declares that "Justice is a Right, Not a Privilege." Another principle included in the charter deals with the need of "scientific understanding of races and cultures," since "a good deal of our present conduct is [illegible] students of [illegible] High School.

The fifth point deals with the danger of prejudice; the sixth with the importance of practical examples and applications of tolerance principles, and the seventh with the methods and procedures to be followed in developing them.

Groundwork for the program was laid in January, when, following an appeal by the National Conference of Christians and Jews on Jan. [illegible], Dr. Greenberg left for Springfield, Mass., to study the "education for democracy" plan there. The Springfield program, widely publicized in recent months, stresses the importance of teaching racial trust and respect through the various courses from kindergarten through high school and adult education.

"This is not a problem of having whites tolerant of Negroes, or Gentiles of Jews, or Protestants of Catholics," Dr. Greenberg declared. "It is a problem — which our program will attempt to solve — of making our entire school population immune and impregnable against the enticements of paid Hitlerite agents, un-American organizations, and a small fanatic fringe of teachers and parents in our own midst."

A series of conferences between Dr. Willard Johnson, of the Teachers' Roundtable of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and the assistant superintendents of schools in New York have been arranged to map details of the campaign.

Parent groups as well as some teachers are being reached through an Institute on Human Relations sponsored by the Board of Education and the United Parents Association. The institute has been meeting at the City College School of Business, 17 Lexington Avenue.

Dr. Greenberg cited a comprehensive program of racial tolerance teaching already introduced at the Mark Twain Junior High School, Neptune Avenue and Twenty-eighth Street, Brooklyn, where it has become part and parcel of the curriculum. Leon B. Kaiser, principal of the school, supervises the program, which may become the example for the city-wide program being started now.

Campaign On Behalf Of Jews Who Quit Polish Army Over Anti-Semitism Gathers Force

Protesting against what he termed the "unjust treatment of Jewish soldiers in the Polish Army," Representative Emanuel Celler, Democrat of New York wrote to the Polish Ambassador that many Americans "are outraged by the proceedings."

In his letter to Ambassador Jan Ciechanowski, Mr. Celler said that of the Jewish soldiers who left the Polish army to join the British forces:

"The treatment meted out to them by Polish officers and men became intolerable. (They were mocked, cuffed, beaten and insulted because of their religion. Protests have been voiced in the British House of Commons. Stung into action, your Government instituted a board of inquiry, but it was merely an attempt to whitewash the culprits. It is difficult to reconcile equity, justice and decency the stiff sentences imposed upon them (the deserters)."

In a letter to Representative Emanuel Celler of New York, Jan Ciechanowski, the Polish Ambassador at Washington, said that his Government and nation were "decidedly not anti-Semitic," but were "actively working to save the Jewish people."

A Russian charge that Ukrainian and White Russian soldiers in the Polish Army had been tortured after an attempt to quit the Polish forces for the British army was denied in detail in London, England, by the press bureau of the Polish forces.

The campaign on behalf of the imprisoned Jews [illegible] Council, and [illegible], leader of the Palestine Labor party.

It is understood that the Polish Jewish leaders want the Jewish soldiers to fight for deliverance of their country in the Polish forces although they naturally ask for an amelioration of the soldiers' lot. The British Jewish leaders, on the other hand, are asking that the soldiers be admitted to the British services.

For the most part, the 600 Jews in the Polish Army have stood by their posts, although Tom Driberg, Independent M. P., said that [illegible] had been transferred to the British Army. As expected, the discussion of the soldiers' situation will be renewed in Parliament by members' questions.

The press bureau of the Polish forces stated that delegates of the Polish Ministries of Defense and the Interior had attended the court-martial in Scotland when cases of the "deserters" were being investigated. Both affirmed, it said, that none of the accused had complained of ill treatment, much less of the tortures alleged in a dispatch from London printed in Pravda.

Jewish soldiers who were court-martialed after their attempts to desert from the Polish forces to join the British Army had a Jewish lawyer from the Polish Army as counsel and Jewish representatives were present at their trials, a Polish Government spokesman said.

"The soldier Abusl Ishak is quoted by the Pravda correspondent [illegible] The press bureau further asserted

New Regulations Protect YOUR COAL SUPPLY
. . . for next winter

[illegible] consumers and dealers in Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

The new order does not apply to users of coal for industrial purposes, ship bunkerage, hospitals or poultry brooders; other orders affect such users. The order sets up three classes of fuels, "A", "B" and "C". Below you will see what each of these three classes represents, and how much of each you will be allowed to buy.

What the Householder must do:

1. You, as a consumer, may buy for use in your premises during the season from April 1, 1944, to March 31, 1945, the same total quantity of coal or coke that you consumed in the same premises in the same period of the 1943-44 heating season.

2. If you burn Class "A" fuel, you must not buy more of it than four-fifths of the total coal you used last season. For the remaining one-fifth you may buy Class "C" fuel. If you use a blower, or any magazine type heater, or any other type of burner in which you cannot satisfactorily burn another class of fuel, you will be allowed to buy your full permitted requirement in Class "B" fuel, if available.

3. You must give your dealer the following information:
(a) The quantity of coal (or coke) you used on your premises between April 1, 1943, and March 31, 1944.
(b) A statement as to whether or not you have ordered coal or coke from another dealer.

4. If you purchase from more than one dealer, you must not accept in any period from all coal dealers a greater amount of coal or coke than you are entitled to receive under the scheduled rates of delivery shown under "What the Dealer Must Do."

What the Dealer must do:

1. The dealer is responsible for delivering supplies on a fair basis. He will receive most of his coal in monthly instalments. In terms of percentages of the total amount of fuel of all types his customer is allowed to buy, he will not be permitted to deliver at rates in excess of the following:

PERIOD	CLASS "A"	CLASS "B"
Apr. 1 - Sept. 30/44	[illegible]	[illegible]
Oct. 1 - Dec. 31/44	[illegible]	[illegible]
Jan. 1 - Mar. 31/45	[illegible]	[illegible]

The dealer may deliver Class "C" fuel at any time, but he must remember that the amount of this fuel, when added to the amount of Class "A" fuel, must not exceed his customer's permitted allowance for the season.

2. He must keep accurate records of all deliveries. These records will be subject to Government inspection.

3 CLASSES OF COAL

Class "A" fuel comprises U.S. anthracite larger than No. 1 buckwheat, Welsh anthracite larger than blower size, low volatile coal in screened sizes larger than pea, coke in sizes larger than pea, briquettes and [illegible] in household sizes. The consumer of such fuels will be entitled to buy [illegible] per cent of his requirements in this class of fuel, if available. He may make up the balance of his requirements with Class "C" fuel.

Class "B" fuel comprises U.S. No. 1 buckwheat anthracite, U.S. domestic anthracite (when used in the Maritime provinces only), Welsh anthracite in all blower sizes, [illegible] (when used in Quebec only). Such fuels must be supplied only for use in equipment which cannot satisfactorily burn any other class of fuel. Such equipment includes blowers and all magazine type heaters. A consumer who depends on such equipment is entitled to purchase, if available, 100 per cent of his permitted requirement in Class "B" fuels.

Class "C" fuels, comprise all other coals not in Classes "A", or "B", including U.S. Anthracite (red or white ash) No. 2 buckwheat (rice), No. 3 buckwheat (barley), No. 4 buckwheat and [illegible], Welsh anthracite screenings only, coke in pea, buckwheat, blower and breeze sizes and [illegible] of any size, and low volatile coal unscreened and any screened sizes smaller than pea.

CLASS IN COOKERY

FRUIT AND SPICE CAKE

two cups raisins	two teaspoons cinnamon
two cups sugar	one teaspoon cloves
one cup shortening	two teaspoons nutmeg
two cups hot water	one teaspoon allspice

Boil together the above ingredients, and let cool thoroughly. When mixture is cold, add:

three and one-half cups flour	one teaspoon baking powder
two teaspoons baking soda	one-half teaspoon salt

Sift together flour, salt, baking soda and baking powder a few times. Bake in long pan, nine by twelve inches, for one and one-half hours, or a little longer. Nut meats may be added.

Mrs. A. Zimmer,
110 Borden Street, Toronto.

BRAIN CUTLETS

one pair beef brains	one-quarter teaspoon salt
one cup cold water	two tablespoons cracker or bread crumbs half teaspoon salt
one egg, beaten slightly	two tablespoons fat

Soak brains in cold water for five minutes, drain, remove veins, place in saucepan with cold water and salt, cover and bring slowly to boil, reduce heat and simmer until firm. Let cool in water. Strain from water, mash, using fork, add beaten egg, salt and crumbs. Form into cutlets and fry in hot fat slowly, until brown on both sides. Serve hot with mashed potatoes and a green vegetable. Serves four.

rehabilitation which will include representatives of the armed Services, the Veterans Administration and other interested groups.

It has been proposed that part of the Baruch funds be used for carefully checked scientific research on such non-medical procedures as claims made by practitioners of osteopathy and chiropractic. Despite these departures from strictly medical fields, Mr. Baruch's plan has the support of such experts as Dr. Morris Fishbein, president of the American Medical Association, who is aiding Mr. Baruch in public relations work for the program.

Mr. Baruch has long been a devotee of physical therapy as the result of the teachings of his father, who was a pioneer in hydrotherapy—the use of water in curing ills. The financier's faith in physical medicine was such that before the advent of Nazism he used to go regularly to Austria for water treatment for a variety of gout from which he suffered.

In explaining his decision to make the million-dollar contribution, Mr. Baruch, who was in gay spirits, told reporters that "my interest has been heightened by my desire to do something for the thousands of men and women in the armed services returning every month. I wanted to do that something now, before I got older."

The septuagenarian predicted blithely that he would be around in ten years to see how the program was working out, since "I take physical therapy too, you know."

Mr. Baruch, whose favorite answer to those daring to ask the extent of his fortune is: "Well, I've got a dollar or two in my pocket and my family's well taken care of," gave away another sizeable share of his fortune in December, 1942. This donation consisted of $1,000,000 in war bonds distributed to fifteen war-relief organizations.

In announcing the gift at his office at 597 Madison Avenue, Mr. Baruch, who at 73 stands 6 feet 3 inches tall and is still as straight as a ramrod, indicated that his present contribution would be only an initial one if the program develops as he hopes.

"If it works out all right, I propose that practically all of my fortune will go into it," he said. "But it has got to turn out right. I don't like to waste money."

This last remark, practical as it was, produced smiles on the faces of reporters present, for Mr. Baruch is known for the variety and substantial proportions of his contributions to worthy causes.

The $1,100,000 given to physical medicine by Mr. Baruch does not include the original sum of $25,000 which he gave last October to Dr. Wilbur's committee of medical men and scientists. This group conducted four months' study of the present development of physical medicine in the U.S., before making the recommendations on which the present plan is based.

According to Dr. Krusen the recommendations of this committee were derived in great part from reports of the armed forces showing that there is an acute shortage at present of trained personnel in physical medicine. The services, Dr. Krusen said, have only one-fifth as many physical and occupational therapy technicians as they need.

Explaining the widespread use of physical medicine, Dr. Krusen said: "The last war gave it its first great impetus, and now about 20 to 25 per cent of all Army patients are treated by some branch of physical medicine. In convalescents, this figure rises to about 70 per cent."

Dr. Krusen added that the program would include post-war refresher courses at the various physical medicine centers for both Army and Navy doctors and technicians and civilian personnel.

Your Fellow-Canadians Overseas Need This Help!

THE most critical days of the war are coming soon, as our brave fighting men smash their way through Hitler's Europe — and on to Berlin.

They have courage and fighting skill. But they will need vast quantities of planes, ships, tanks, munitions and other war materials in order to outmatch the enemy every step of the way.

[illegible] war Victory, thus saving countless precious Canadian [illegible]

We who are at home must supply all this equipment to our fighting forces by buying Victory Bonds.

This is indeed little to ask. For every dollar we put into Victory Bonds comes back to us later — with interest. We are only lending, our money.

So let us all buy more and more Victory Bonds! Let us match the spirit of self-sacrifice shown by our gallant men overseas!

WHAT IS A VICTORY BOND?

A Victory Bond is the promise of the Dominion of Canada to repay in cash the full face value of the Bond at the time stipulated, with half-yearly interest at the rate of 3% per annum until maturity.

A Victory Bond is the safest investment in Canada. The entire resources of the Dominion stand behind it. Canada has been issuing bonds for 75 years, and has never failed to pay every dollar of principal and interest.

A Victory Bond is an asset more readily converted into cash than any other security.

Palestine And World Peace

(Radio Addresses by Rabbi Dr. Harry J. Stern over Canadian Broadcasting System National Religious Period). Text: Isaiah 51:9-11.

(Concluded From Last Week)

The real spirit, however, of Jewish Palestine is truly found in the co-operative colonies. Three pilgrimages I have made in recent years to the Holy Land, and throughout these visits I have come, more and more, to admire the dramatic experiment in collectivism that is taking place in the co-operative settlements. Here we see concretized the teachings of social justice as taught by the Hebrew Prophets. Here exploitation of labor is unheard of; here there is a religion of labor.

Remarkable too, is the cultural renaissance. The Hebrew tongue has been revived. Hebrew letters, Jewish art, Jewish learning, have been revived. The great Hebrew University on Mount Scopus, Jerusalem, crowns the educational system. Great Jewish scholars and scientists have come from the ends of the earth to make Palestine their home. In 1920, the Jewish population numbered but 50,000. Today Jewish Palestine boasts a population of 600,000. The Jews, indeed, have made good in the land, beyond the world's expectation, and even beyond their own expectation. Palestine hence is one of the most modern of communities and the Jews, in rebuilding the Holy Land, have brought benefits not only to themselves but to Christian and Arab alike. In truth, the romance of the Jewish return to the Holy Land and the revival of national life there constitute the greatest epic of the twentieth century.

In this second world war, Jewish Palestine has proved to be the arsenal of democracy of the Near East. When General Rommel stood with his Nazi legions at the gates of Alexandria, ready to snap the life-line of the British Empire, the gallant and trusted ally of Great Britain was the Jewish community of Palestine. The Arab states were for the most [illegible] Grand Mufti, head of the Arab Community, and by the way, still the biggest land-owner in Palestine, where was he? and where is he now? In Berlin, broadcasting to the Arab world in the cause of Hitler. Yes, in Britain's darkest hour the Jew proved to be the tested and trusted heroic ally.

Thirty thousand Palestinian Jews volunteered in the armies of the United Nations. Jewish suicide squads fought and died heroically in the cause of democracy; 200,000 Jews of Palestine threw themselves into every department of the war effort. Thousands of Jewish doctors and nurses volunteered their services. The laboratories of the Hebrew University were placed at the service of the United Nations. The entire supply line for General Montgomery's Eighty Army, covering a trek of 1,300 miles across the desert, was organized by Brigadier General Frederick Kisch, a Jew of Haifa. This brave soldier fell in battle in the very sight of victory at the gates of Bizerte. Yes, indeed, the Jews of Palestine gave of their life and their treasures in the cause of freedom.

Here it is well to record that Jews to the number of 1,500,000 are now serving on every field of battle in the armed forces of the United Nations, sacrificing and dying that freedom perish not from the face of the earth.

Shall the existing Jewish homeland be allowed to grow and thrive? We ask this question because the White Paper adopted by Britain in 1939, an outgrowth of the long discredited policy of appeasement such as made possible the crucifixion of Czechoslovakia, has on March 31 past, become of date. This White Paper restricts land sales to Jews, Jewish immigration to Palestine, as of March 31, has been practically stopped; further Jewish immigration is to be consented to by the Arab majority; and last but not least, the White Paper reduces the Jewish community of Palestine to a permanent minority status, for it legislates that the Jewish population shall consist at all times of no more than one-third of the general population of the country.

This White Paper has been condemned by some of the greatest of British statesmen. Mr. Winston Churchill, during the debate on this paper in the House of Commons, denounced this document as an "act of repudiation"; "a plain breach of a solemn agreement" made with the Jewish people of the world, and when this White Paper was referred to the Permanent Mandate Commission of the League of Nations they refused to endorse it.

Is the White Paper to be the reward of an heroic and trusted ally? This can not be. I have faith in the British high sense of justice and the British traditional friendship for the Jewish people. When victory comes and the just peace formulated, it is my hope and prayer that justice will be meted out to the Jew. Of one thing we are certain: the world will never truly know peace until it deals justly with the Jew. We plead that in the program of the four freedoms for which this terrible war is being waged, freedom be granted to the Jews of the world to further the growth and development of Palestine into a democratic Jewish commonwealth. Palestine as a homeland now is more urgent than ever for the Jewish people.

Let us be realistic about the kind of a world that will emerge from the fires of this global tragedy. There will be no opportunities for mass-migrations of Jews anywhere in the world. We wish it were otherwise. Feeble trickles of immigration will be permitted in this or that country and we Jews shall ever be indebted and remember those nations who have come to the rescue of our persecuted brethren. But millions of people, Jews, will have to leave the crowded and tensioned centres of Europe. Thus we see how desperately we need a free and open Palestine, how Palestine becomes an indispensable condition toward a peaceful solution to the Jewish problem and also an aid toward world pacification.

We plead also that wherever Jews may dwell they may at long last live in freedom and earn their bread in peace wherever they may be among the peoples of the earth.

And here in conclusion we must underscore this great truth. Jews as self-respecting heirs of a great religious tradition, and as lovers and builders of freedom, will never accept the strangulation of Jewish Palestine. They no longer will accept to be ghettoized either in Palestine or outside of Palestine. Rather will they resist and die the death of martyrs as did the prisoners of the Warsaw Ghetto, the first anniversary of whose martyrdom the Jewish world and lovers of freedom everywhere, are now with bowed head reverently observing.

On a tour through Western Canada but recently it was my privilege to have addressed Canadian Clubs and Clergy groups on this very theme of Palestine. I am happy to state that my plea in behalf of agonized Israel found a warm response in the hearts of leading Canadian citizens of all walks of life. I know that the Christian conscience of Canada is aroused in the cause of the Jewish people, and that there is a strong resolve and willingness on the part of our Christian brethren to war everywhere on the pestilence of anti-Semitism and a firm resolve to insist as a matter of British honour, international honour and Christian morality, the pledge made by Britain and the nations of the world to the Jewish people, be kept!

We pray that on the day when the peace terms are drawn, that in that hour of decision, Canadian statesmanship will not hesitate to speak in behalf of persecuted Israel. May the just peace come speedily for the Jewish people and all mankind and may our belief in the Fatherhood of God motivate all of us to live in co-operation, in peace and in genuine brotherhood.

"Have we not all one Father?
Hath not one God created us?
Why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother?"

that due consideration had been shown for Orthodox Catholics in the granting of leave."

The prison terms imposed on Jewish soldiers who deserted from the Polish Army and refused to go back on the ground that anti-Semitism was practiced in it may never be served, it was indicated in a statement of the Polish Government reviewing the problem.

Last week the defendants were tried and convicted in Scotland under the military penal code of their country. Of the sentences of one to three years' imprisonment, the Government said: "They were reported to the commanding officer of the divisions in which the men serve; he has the right to defer their execution until the demobilization of the man, provided that they show sufficient good-will."

There was no way of discovering the precise intention regarding the prisoners, although the Government's leniency was interpreted as meaning that at least some of the men might escape punishment altogether.

Another development was the investigation of six cases of alleged offenses against Jewish soldiers running back several months before the first desertions. Instances of anti-Semitism brought up in the trial are likewise being studied and the trial of any offenders was promised.

Meanwhile the authorities have been scanning the records of Polish Jewish troops and have arrived at the conclusion that the great majority will continue to serve without complaint. Of a total of some 700 Jews, thirty-seven have been commissioned in the past six months. Two Jews have received the Virtuti Militari medal, the highest war decoration in the Polish forces; twenty-six have got the Cross of Valor and three the Cross of Merit.

Some opinion, though it is unofficial, claims that the deserters were for the most part emigre Poles who lived for years outside Poland and were in fact no longer Polish in anything but the legal name. They were thus said to be ill at ease in the Polish forces, to which they had been directed by the draft. The British Army, which absorbed 207 Jewish Poles, announced on March 13 that no more would be accepted, especially those who deserted.

Polish circles in England are inclined to blame the desertions on enemies of Poland, saying the anti-Semitism, bad as it may be, is not intense enough to justify such action, they say. Moreover, it is added that, for every Jewish Pole who complains of his treatment in the Polish forces in England, there are several thousands being protected by the underground in Poland.

Writing in reply to the letter from Mr. Celler, charging the Polish forces with anti-Semitism, the Ambassador in Washington stated that it was an injustice to accuse them of "racialism or any other form of intolerance."

"The Polish people and the Jews of Poland are closely knit in their common fight against the racialism, inhumanity, intolerance and barbarism of German nazism," he went on. "An ever-closer understanding is developing between them as a result of common suffering.

"The Polish and the Jewish people are going through the most tragic period in their history. It is an unjustifiable wrong at this time to take advantage of regrettable isolated incidents or personal quarrels among individual soldiers of an army in order to accuse an entire army, a nation or its government of mass tendencies of which they are not guilty."

The Ambassador called attention to recent statements of his government in support of his definition of the situation.

He characterized as "totally unfounded" the charge by Mr. Celler that "the Jewish soldiers in our Army were victimized because of their religion."

Asserting that there was an "adequate number" of chaplains of the Jewish faith in the Polish Army, he said that "every facility has always been given to our Polish soldiers of Jewish faith to follow the rites of their cult and to celebrate their religious feast days."

"Throughout our history the Polish nation has invariably shown the highest degree of religious tolerance," the Ambassador continued. "Poland's record is entirely free from religious persecution.

"The great majority of Jewish citizens who for centuries came to settle in Poland, did so mostly to escape persecution in other European countries. This simply proves the irrefutable fact of Poland's traditional religious and racial tolerance.

"If you had taken the trouble to pass in review the statements issued by the Polish Government relating to our Jewish citizens in the course of this war, and the numerous initiatives it has taken, calling for United Nations action in defense of the Jewish people, you would undoubtedly arrive at the conclusion that the Polish Government and the Polish nation have been and are actively working to save the Jewish people and that they are decidedly not anti-Semitic."

We Can Do Better

IN the past, wars have brought with them a high cost of living, ending with inflation.

This sapped the strength of nations and added poverty and injustice to the other tragedies of war.

Later it has led to falling prices and unemployment.

In this war, we Canadians are determined to head off this danger.

We have done much to avoid a repetition of the disastrous price rises of previous wars. We have paid higher taxes. We have bought Victory Bonds. We have severely limited profits.

We have put a ceiling on prices. And to make it possible to hold the ceiling, wages and salaries have been controlled.

In one way or another most increased costs have been absorbed and very few passed on to the consumer.

Holding the ceiling has been a struggle. But the results have been worth while. From 1914 to 1919 prices rose 60%. From 1939 to 1944 the rise has been only 18%.

✱

This effort of the Canadian people has been successful enough to be noted in other countries.

✱

But we must continue to hold the line. We need not let history repeat itself. We can do better.

We can all help—

By cutting down unnecessary spending, and buying Victory Bonds instead.

By not hoarding or buying in black markets.

By not taking advantage of the war situation to press claims for higher prices, higher wages, higher costs or higher profits.

(This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing a further increase in the cost of living now and deflation later.)
